Clifford Chance Increases U.S. Pro Bono Hours by 93% in 2020

Key Wins:

- Engagement: Increased number of hours by 93% over 2019
- Efficiency: ~100 hours of admin time saved/year to focus on deepening impact in the community
- Skills Leveraged: 43% of pro bono focused on enhancing transactional skills like contract drafting and review; 21% of work focused on litigation and courtroom based skills

Background:

Clifford Chance has a well established US pro bono practice, with lawyers deeply committed to the work. Given its leadership in legal innovation, the firm felt that investing in pro bono technology was the natural next step to take its program to the next level. Paladin's 'one-stop-shop' central opportunity database has significantly increased the ease with which attorneys can identify new matters at their convenience. And, introductions to new legal services partners have increased the firm's breadth of offerings.

By serving as a 'trusted advisor' to Clifford Chance's pro bono team, Paladin has helped attorneys stay engaged and continue to build their skills during such an unprecedented time.

From the Firm:

"It's allowed us to broaden our reach in the community, work with new non-profit partners and facilitate opportunities for our lawyers more efficiently."

Diana Mitchell, Senior Business Advisor for Corporate & Community Development

"Paladin's true innovation is expanding the breadth of pro bono cases for our attorneys. This means heightened pro bono impact across a wider range of worthy causes."

Conan Hines, Senior Legal Technology Advisor
