Dentons' Pro Bono Matters Increased by 37% in the First Year

Key Wins:

- Engagement: Number of matters increased by 37% in the first year.
- Desired Focus: Number of matters for low-income individuals and nonprofits that serve them increased by 63% in the first year.
- Press Coverage: Featured in Business Insider, Law360, and Entrepreneur, among others.
- Skills Developed: 39% of pro bono focused on building transactional skills like contract drafting and review; 24% of work focused on litigation and courtroom based skills.

Background:

As the largest law firm in the world, Dentons' pro bono program spans 32 offices and includes more than 1,000 lawyers in the U.S. Paladin makes it more streamlined for Dentons' Pro Bono Partner to oversee that scope, and much easier for lawyers to find available matters. It also helps Dentons better support nonprofit partner organizations by focusing resources to directly serve people in need.

From the Firm:

"Paladin empowers every Dentons lawyer and professional to engage on vital pro bono needs, both in our communities and around the country."

Mike McNamara, Chief Executive Officer, Dentons US

"There's now a technology, an infrastructure, that speaks to lawyers in a way they want to be talked to about something they care about." Ben Weinberg, Pro Bono Partner
